REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

The Town Trustees seemed destined to meet with all sorts of opposition in their designs to secure for the town a supply of water. The final successful ending of their attempts to secure the legal permit of the people of the town for the issuance of bonds, which had required the calling of two elections, failed to end the financial difficulties in the way of the project. When the Trustees endeavored to dispose of the bonds they discovered that it was one thing to resolve to borrow money but quite another to find a person willing to loan. Soon after the election at which the vote in favor of the bonds was secured, the Trustees issued a call for offers for the purchase of the bonds but at the meeting at which these bids were to be opened it was found that no one was anxious to carry the credit of the city and that the expected bids did not materialize. Again the Trustees were not to be daunted by failures and directed the Clerk to issue calls for a second time.

The second attempt to secure a bid for the bonds proved as abortive as the first, although the Trustees made an active personal canvas for a purchaser and again no bids were received. However the Trustees were not to be balked in their public spirited effort for the advancement of the interest of the town. They had started the propoition ot public worter works in answer to a public demand for a water supply and were not to be balked. Finding that financial investors were not ready to listen to the appeals of the public, they determined to endeaver to throw the work of securing the cash upon the contractors who might undertake the work. After it had beem determined that the town could not dispose of the bonds, the Clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the construction of the plant, with the understanding that the contractor was to be paid in the bonds and that he must find his own market for securing the money. This plan proved more efficatious, as two contracting firms were found ready to compete for the job, both being San Francisco firms. The Pacific Bridge Company offered to build the works complete for $24,740, while the John Caddy offered to do the same work for $21,850 and was given the contract. While the bids were heing discussed, Capt. Caddy informed the Trustees that he had been able to find a bank in San Francisco which nould take the bonds off his hands at 99 cents on the dollar. This information was something of a stunner to the Trtstees who had deen hawking the bonds about the same city and had failed to find any one who would consider them at anything over 90 cents and were not anxious for a deal even at that rate. Evidently Capt. Caddy knew what he was doing however for he was ready with his contract and as soon as this was signed started with the work.

On the 23d of December, 1877, the Masonic Lodge of this town installed officers for the ensuing year as follows: H. N. Bishop, worshipful master: P. P. Chamberlain, senior warden; J. White, junior warden; H.A. Scofield, secretary; G. W. Fox, treasurer; W. R. Thomas, senior deacon; James Crow, junior deacon; S. M. Cook, and Amos Dennis, stewards; E. G. Irwin, marshal; John Poole, tyler. The ceremonies were conducted by J. P. Ames, past master of Hayward Lodge of Halfmoon Bay.

On the night of January 20th, 1877 the town of Halfmoon Bay was the scene of a series of evidently incendiary fires which, but for prompt action and good luck must have wiped out that prosperous little berg. Early in the night an incipient fire was discovered in a small dewelling house near the bridge. Owing to the good fortune of its early discovery this was easly extinguished. A little later the same night a second fire was discovered, this time in a house in another portion of the town, the property of Eugene Walker of San Mateo. Like the first fire, this was discovered soon after it had been started and was extinguished with but a small loss to the property. Somewhat later in the same night, fire broke out in the business district. This was first discovered in a vacant building, adjoining Martin's restaurant. Owing to the lateness of the hour, this was not so readily detected and the flames had gained considerable headway before their discovery. When the alarm was given this fire had gained too much start to be controlled within a short time and before it was stoped not only the building in which it started was destroyed but the resturant adjoining was entirely consumed. In fact it was only after a hard fight that the flames were prevented from spreading still further. At the time the danger to Rosenblum's store, next to the resturand bulding, was so great that the goods were removed. After the goods had been taken out, a small blaze was noticed in the store and two men with buckets rushed into the place. As they dashed the water over the fire they discovered a strange man near the location of the blaze, infact so close that a portion of the water intended for the fire was thrown upon him. In the excitement however this stranger managed to make his escape without being identified. Apparently the miscreant nust have been scared out of the town as this ended his attemps. The total loss from the series of fires was estimated at about $5000.

MURDEROUS KNIFE-WIELDER COWED BY BIKE WRENCH.

Flashing a nicker-plated wrench in the face of Bonitato Se Bactio, a murderous Sicilan, Sunday night, Charles Cofiro, a local contractor, by his quick wit held a would-be murderer at bay until the arrival of the police.

A number of foreigners engaged in a drunken brawl in a boarding house kept by Bailo Pasquale at 103 Marshal street and Sernando Biagi, a Greek was stabbed in the body by Se Bactio. The liquor crazed Silian then threw away the dagger and dashed for the door, intending to escape, only to be halted by the stern command of "hands up" from Cofiori, who at the point of his imitation gun drove the fugitive into Demartini's saloon and kept him there until Demartini had summoned Sheriff Chatham.

Se Bacto was lodged in jail and Biagi was taken to Mrs. Huling's sanitarium on Phelps street where he was cared for by Drs. Ross and Taggart. The knife had entered the abdomen, just missing his stomach. He is not considered in great danger.

FAMOUS GEORGIA MINSTRELS ARE COMING TO REDWOOD.

There is a feast in store for the laugh-hungry at the Alhambra on Monday, December 26th, when Richards and Pringle's famous Georgia Minstrels make their appearance.

The mere announcement of this company's coming is usually sufficient to pack the theatre. Little need be said for this company, for they have been coming here for over a quarter of a century, and their merit is well known. In keeping with the policy of the management, everything is brand new. While several of the old favorites remain, many new faces will be seen in the circle this season. A great deal of attention has been paid to the singing and dancing portions of the program, and lovers of old-time minstrelsy will find much to please them. The vaudeville portion will be the most expensive ever carried by a minstrel company. Fred Simpson's Challenge Band of twenty-five solo musicians is a prominent feature, and the management throws down the gauntlet to any minstrel company to produce its equal. Watch the big street parade at noon. There will be a band concert in front of the Alhambra at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and the program will range from ragtime to grand opera.

THREE MURDEROUS GREEKS FINED BY JUDGE HANNON.

The Greek railroad crew that is making improvements on the company's right of way through this city is causing the officers no end of trouble. Hardly a day passes that some breach of the peace is not reported. Last Saturday three young men named Phil Winters, Cole Clement and Frank Cobe, who cam from San Francisco were walking by the Greek camp, near the southern limits of the city, when Winters asked the cook for something to eat. They were blasphemously ordered to move on and were complying with the order when the Greek fired on them and then pursued them. Winters made his escape but Clement and Cobe were caught and severely beaten. When they were released by the Greeks, Clement staggered to the residence of Hugh Walker on Phelps street and a telephone was sent in for the officers. Marshal Coleman responded and arrested nine of the Greeks. On Monday they appeared in Judge Hannon's court when George Stanatis, the crew boss, pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon and was fined $50 which he paid. John Bukovich and Stepner Koler were each fined $10 for disturbing the peace. The other prisoners were discharged.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There Is a Heap of Solace In Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Redwood City readers have seen the constant praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

W J. McGarvey, 25 Clarenont Ave., Wellesley Park, Redwood City, Cal., says: "It would be impossible for me to give Doan's Kidney Pills more praise than they deserve. Their use has spared me a great deal of suffering fram backache and kidney trouble and because of the great benefit I have derived I consider it only fair that I make their merits known. I have been a deputy county official of San Mateo County for over 20 years, and you can refer to me at any time as one who can vouch for the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured this remedy at P. A. Ryan's Drug Store, and publicly endorsed it two and a half years ago. At this time I willingly confirm that statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CITYOFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

A quarter's worth of flowers in sick room will do more good than a ten dollar "Gates Ajar" at a funeral.

One of the best methods of assisting in the building up of any city is to support its home institutions. If you desire to see your town prosperous give your support to the merchant.

The man who accepts credit for necessities from his home merceant for eleven months in the year and then goes elsewhere to pay cash for his holiday gifts certainly showes poor appeciation for favors extended.

The Trustees should receive the support of every resident of Redwood City in their compain for cleaner and more attractive streets. The cost of an occasional thorough cleaning up will be but a trifle to each, while it will add immensely not only to the value of property but to the pleasures of life. An occasional few hours work will do wonders in the way of making the surronndings of home attractive.

WORTHY OF HIS HIRE.

The suggestion made to the City Council by Dr. Taylor that the present nominal salary of the City Health Officer be increased to an amount somewhat more commensurate with the duties expected of that officer is one that merits favorable consideration at the hands of the Trustees. While it is admitted that the funds at the disposal of the Trustees for the transaction of the business of the city are none too large and that strict economy in expenditures must be employed, this is a matter in which economy should not be pushed to the extent of niggardliness. In the protection of the public health the city requires the best work obtainable, and for this when the services is rendered should be willing to pay a reasonable recompense.

Since the appointment of Dr. Ross to the position he has been most actice in the performance of his duties. Actuated by a true public spirit,, he has devoted much time to theduties of the office and has expended a considerable sum from private means in equipment needed for the successful administration of his duties. That his regard for the public welfare has led Dr. Ross to do this without promise of other reward than the approval of the public and of his own conscience does not justify the witholding of a reasonable recompense from the people whom he is serving. The public has no more right to the services of a physician without pay than has a private patient.

FIRE DEPARTMENT OFFICERS ELECTED

City Council Will Insint Upon Better Sidewalks and Cleaner Streets

Although the primary occasion for the holding the adjourned session of the City Council last Monday evening was a joint conference with the representatives of the Volunteer Fire Department, considerable general city business was disposed of at the meeting of the trustees. Particularly important to the future welfare of the city was the evident determination to awaken a more general exhibition of civic pride among the owners of property. While the trustees hesitate to take drastic action unless under extreme circumstances, it was plainly evident that they do not intend to longer permit the appearance of the city to be marred by dangerouss and unsightly sidewalks or unkept streets. The trustees evidently realize the importance to the general welfare of the city of properly kept walks and streets. and are preparing to insist that the owners of property do their share to put the city in presentable form and give it that attractive appearance which will do much to attract the favorble attention of visitors.

The United Gas and Electric Co. was granted permission to place one of their transformers upon a pole of the city lighting system on the county road, near Vera avenue.

Street Superintendent Dickey reported that a number of sidewalks in various portions of the city were seriously out of repair. In many of these cases owners of the property had been notified some months ago to make the needed repairs and in some cases to construct new walks. Many of these had made good promises and had been allowed some time in which to do the work, but now showed no inclination to keep their promises. In the majority of these cases the city attorney was directed toissue new and premptory notices requiring the work to be done. In a particularly aggravating case of neglect, extreme measures were resorted to. This was the property on Jackson street between Railroad and Franklin, owned by heirs of a colored man named Brown and in front of which the walk is in a sadly neglected state after more than a year spent in an endeavor to secure the improvements. In this case, on the motion of Trustee Hynding the City Attorney was directed to bring legal proceedings to force the laying of a concrete walk. In making this motion Mr. Hynding stated that he was of the opinion that it was time people began to realize that when the council issued an order of this character it ment business.

Two more deeds for property required for the extension of Phelps street were presented by City Attorney Mansfield, those to the Robertson and Cullen propertiesy For the Robertson properyt, price paid was $1660, and for the Cullen property $3775.58. In the case of the Cullen property the price includes the estimated cost of damage due to the remodeling and removal of buildings.

The representatives af the Fire Department now being present, the council took a recess for the purpose of holding the joint meeting which was attended by the following representatives of the fire department:

Hose No. 1—A. Mansfield and A. S. Liguori.

Hose No. 2—Gus Stalter and J. P. Coleman.

Hose No. 3—Jas. McGlynn and Jas. Reynolds.

Hook and Ladder—Wm. Price an J. P. Crown.

Chemical Company—Ed Allen and R. Svihus.

Practically the only business to come before the a joint conference was the election of the Fire Department for the coming year. Evidently there was no division among the firemen as to whom they desired as officers and as this was a matter in which the members of the department were the most interested they were allowed their choice and the following were named as the officers without opposition: Chief, J. N. Winter; first assistant, J. P. Coleman; second assistant, Jas. J. McGlynn. In closing this portion of the meeting, Mayor Merrill took occasion to thank the delegates present for the interest shown by their attendance and to compliment the department for the excellent work of the past year. City Attorney Mansfield was allowed a claim of $52.55, and Dr. A. Miles Taylor $30, in payment of their expenses in attendance at the meeting of the League of California Municipalities at San Diego. A. J. Nelson was allowed $47.50 in payment of expenses of collections of street assessments in the Dingee Park and Roosevelt avenue improvement districts.

A suggestion from Mayor Merrill for the awakening of civic pride in the property owners brought to his attention the existence of an ordinance which, from its evident utter disregard, had escaped his notice. After calling attention to the derogatory impression caused by the appearance of unkept streets, Mayor Merrill suggested that some steps should be taken to induce owners of property to keep the weeds clear from the streets in front of their property and suggested an ordinance making some provision for this improvement of matters, when to his evident surprise he was informed that an ordinance of this character was already in existance and had been for a number of yers. As soon as he had recovered from his astonishment, Mr. Merrill suggested that, while it was yet a little early in the season it was non too soon to make an endeavor to secure a neater appearance for the streets of the entire city for the coming summer Nothing, in his opinion was more important in the making of an attractive city than neatly kept streets, free from the unsightly and dangerous growth of weeds. This suggestion met with the hearty concurrence of the council and it is planned to find some means of securing general cooperation in the movement.

Chairman Merrill reported that 300 additional city maps could be printed at an expense not to exceed $12.50, and Clerk Plump was given authority to place an order for the maps.

An adjournment was then taken until next Monday evening.

CONSTABLE SHEEHAN CAPTURES DESERTER.

Makes Long Chase After Thief Who is Wanted by Army.

In capturing Dick Curtis, the thief who had stolen a saddle from Mr. Hull's barns some time ago, Mike Sheehan, the popular San Mateo constable apprehended one of the deserters from the U. S. army at the Presidio. The saddle was mised by Mr. Hull's men some two weeks before they reported the matter to him, thus giving the thief a good opportunity to get considerable distance away and out of the country, the men supposing that Mr. Hull had loaned the saddle to a friend as he had often done before. Curtis, who had worked for Mr. Hull in the months of May and June in the hay season had at odd times had opportunity to display considerable experience as a vaquero and for which he showed a decided predilection, thus the reason for suspicion being directed toward him as the probable thief. After Mr. Hull was through with him, after haying season, he was known to have gone to Palo Alto and there worked as roustabout around the livery stables until about the time the saddle was missed in November, going south from Palo Alto where Mr. Hull located him on a ranch near Madrone. Mr. Hull accompanied Constable Sheehan to Madrone for the purpose of identifying the sstolen property which had been disposed of by by Soldier Dick to a rancher adjoining the Coe's ranch where Curtis was employed at the time of his capture.

Constable Padrone of Madrone went with Mr. Sheehan to assist in making the arrest should help be needed and after the quarry was bagged, by his splendid tact and shrewdness for which he is so well known, Constable Sheehan succeeded in securing a confession from Curtis that he was not only guilty of the thieft but he was also a deserter from the army. He was brought back to San Mateo and it is Mr. Sheehan's intention to immediately communicate with the army officers and arrange for turning him over to them for his punishment which he and Mr. Hull decided would be bquite enough and thus save San Mateo county considerable expense and annoyance in an effort to mete out justice in the criminal courts of the county.

High School Debate

On Saturday evening December 17 at 7 p. m. there will be a debate between representatives of the Palo Alto high school and representatives from Sequoia in our Assembly Hall on the question "Resolved that the Initiative and Referendum should be introduced by our State Government"

As this debate follows a paid entertainment on Friday evening by the high school no charge will be made for admission. The debate is to begin at 7 p. m. promptly, because one of the judges, Rev. Atkinson of Campbell could not act unless he could go south on the 8:45 train. So far but one debate has been held with the judges provided for in the constitution of the Santa Clara Valley Debating League.

It is not known who will represent the Palo Alto high school. Our debaters at Redwood are Ray Griffin and Gertrude Pitcher; and at Palo Alto are Roy Woodhams and Frank Griffin.

The question is a live one, and we ask that a large audience be on hand to offer encouragement to our team. We believe those who represent Sequoia are entitled to that much consideration from the people of Redwood.

Merry Birthday Surprise

Miss Laura Emmett, one of the popular young misses of Belmont, was given a very pleasant surprise party last Saturday evening in honor of her sixteenth birthday. This particular entertaining affair was planed by Misses May Quinn, Agatha Kelly and Edith Robinson, and besides the reception was enjoyed by a large gathering of young people, both from at home and from neighboring towns. The reception and dance arranged in honor of the young lady was held in the school hall which had been handsomely prepared for the occasion.

The party was in every way a complete surprise to Miss Emmett, so neatly had the detail been arranged. Gathering early in the evening at the home of Miss Emmett, a small party of intimate friends induced her to accompany them to the hall on the plea of enjoying a small party .Upon reaching the hall Miss Emmett was surprised to find a large company of her school friends of the grammar and high schools assembled and all prepared for an evening of jolly fun. Splendid music had been provided and dancing was the order of the evening, partners for the grand march being chosen by the matching of favors on the programs. Most inviting refreshments had been prepared by the young ladies, and the service of these added much to the enjoyment of the evening. Mesdames Frank Quinn of San Carlos, LaPlace of San Frncisco, Hutchings and Haquette of Belmont were the chaperones of the party and did much to add to the pleasures of the evening. Among the guests present were a number from San Francisco, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City.

Another pretty feature of the evening was the presentation to Prof. Wm T. Reid, Jr., of a handsome loving cup as an evidence of the esteem in which he is held by the young people. Mr. Reid is soon to leave for the East to reside, and the presentation was made by the young ladies of the Cecelian Club as an evidence of their appreciation of the active aid he has lent on numerous social occasions.

In all respects this was one of the most pleasant social affairs of this section. Those who were so fortunate as to be present enjoyed themselves to the utmost and were unanimous in voicing the hope that many similar occasions might be enjoyed. When the party broke up at midnihtg, it was with many congratulations to Miss Emmett that the happy guests departed for their homes.
